

Around the World in NYC

by Chloé Nini

About...

NYC is home to millions of people coming from thousands of different cultures. Some that have come to this city hundreds of years ago. Some that have found their community and settled into neighborhoods that they can now call home. Neighborhoods that are filled with restaurants from their native cuisine, clothing stores, etc... From little Italy (Manhattan), to Chinatown (Manhattan, Flushing Queens), or even Little Odessa (Brighton Beach Brooklyn), Little India (Jackson Heights), Koreatown (Manhattan), Little Paris (Manhattan), Little Guyana (Richmond Queens), and the list goes on... Meanwhile, immigrants from other cultures that come from smaller countries, that are spread out all over the 5 boroughs, are sometimes not fortunate enough to have a little piece of the city where they can speak their native language, eat their cultural food. In this city that is so rich with culture, food is something that can sometimes feel like home. It is the easiest way to cure homesickness at times. I want my project to be a way for individuals from a few smaller countries, that have smaller diasporas in New York City, to find places (restaurants, eateries), where they can be able to feel at home after a single bite, or even converse with the restaurant staff in their native language

Greetings from...

GEORGIA

PLACE STAMP
HERE

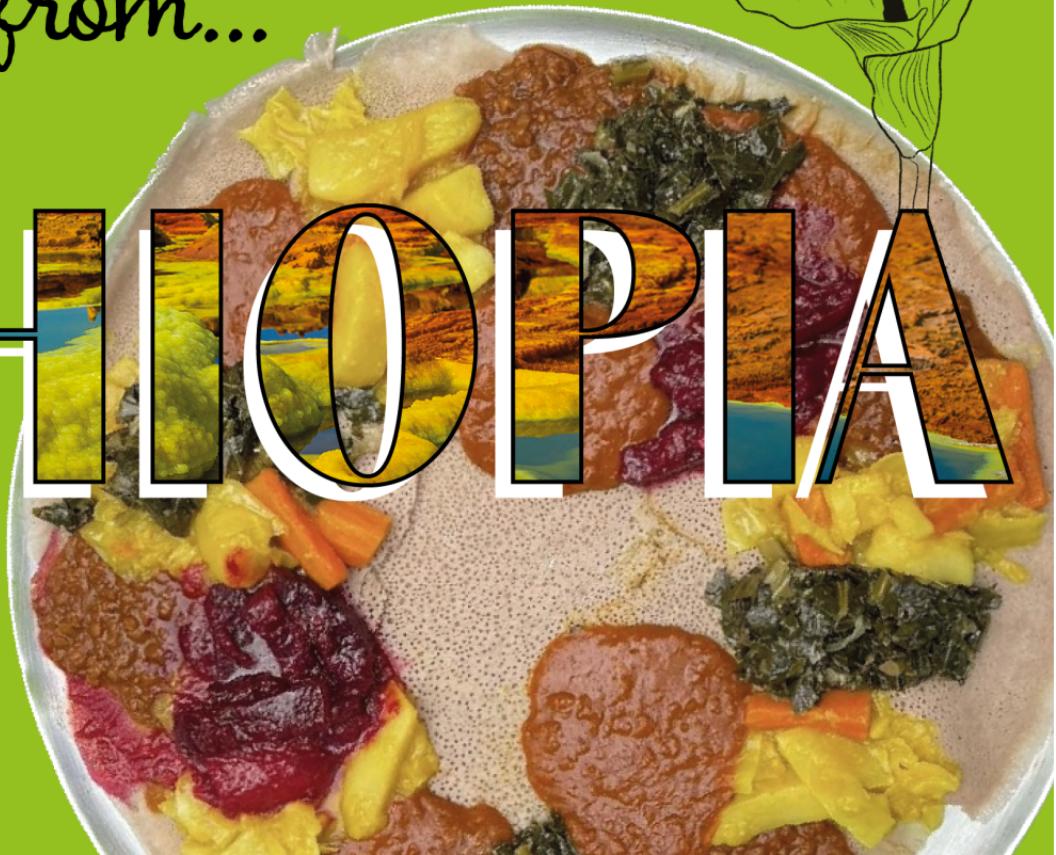

Old Tbilisi Garden

174 Bleecker Street, West Village.

Ajaruli (dough stuffed with georgian cheese, topped with an egg and butter).

Greetings from...

ETHIOPIA

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Awash

338 East 6th Street, East Village.

Vegetarian Platter on injera bread.

Greetings from...

LEBANON

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

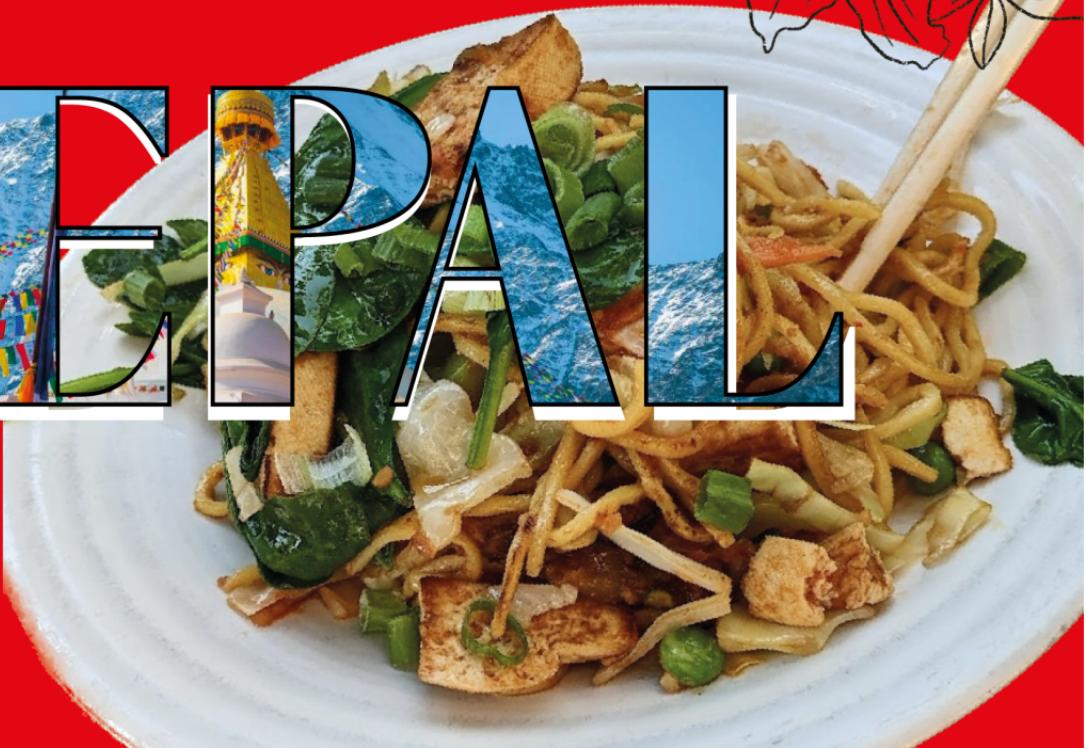

Manousheh

193 Bleecker St, West Village

Manousheh cocktail (thyme and cheese flatbread).

Greetings from...

NEPAL

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Café Himalaya

78 East 1st Street, East Village

Gyathuk Ngopa (Sautéed egg noodles with fresh veggies and chicken).

Greetings from...

DENMARK

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Smør

441 East 12th Street, East Village

Toast Skagen (Shrimp salad, roe, dill, and lemon on sourdough).

Greetings from...

URUGUAY

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

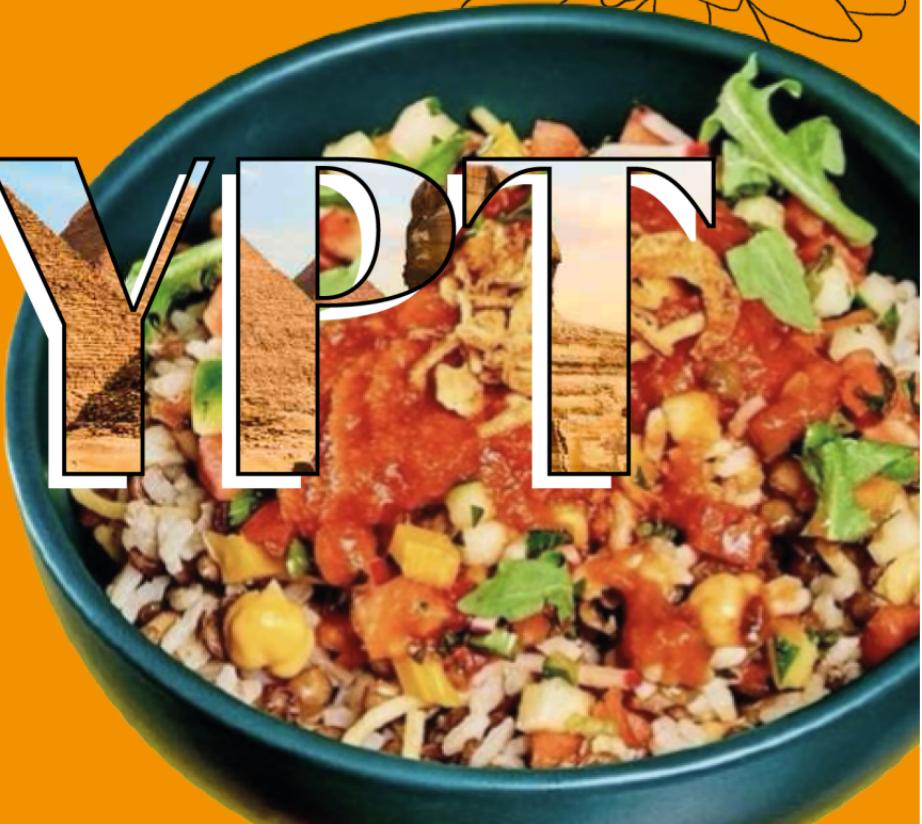

Tabaré

221 South 1st Street, Williamsburg

Chivito Completo (Sandwich filled with various meats etc....).

Greetings from...

EGYPT

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Zooba

221 South 1st Street, Williamsburg

Koshary (Pasta,rice,vermicelli,brown lentils topped with sauces and garnish)

